North Paris.

W. W. Dunham has raised this year about fifty different varieties of grapes. In the cultivation of small fruit, he excels any body in this section. He has several varieties each of strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, gooseberries, currants, and various kinds of small fruits. Mr. D. has raised some 3000 grapes of different varieties this season. They are doing nicely. He also has many good layers. His specimens of grapes got a premium at the State Fair and at our county fair. Those in want of grape vines will do well to call on him. In squashes he raised about half a ton and sold them for three cents per pound. He also had a good crop of melons. Of potatoes he has the No. 1, Beauty of Hebron, White Elephant and other leading varieties. He keeps 25 swans of Italian breed and has lots of hives in his season. His farm consists of some 200 acres and is well adapted for the cultivation of small fruit. His apple crop is below the average.

Paris Hill.

The Democrat says: "That the Hubbard House is undergoing repairs." Mrs. Dr. Geo. Russell of Boston, sister of the late Judge Joseph C. Russell, and the only remaining member of the family, died last Tuesday at the age of 87 years. — Stephen Emery of the Boston Conservatory of Music, and wife were in town last week. Mr. Emery is in poor health. — At the recent meeting of the Me. Baptist Missionary Society, H. C. Estes, D. D. was elected President. He was also selected as one of the delegates to the National Convention to be held at San Antonio, Nov. 8, for the purpose of considering the question of Bible publication. — Dr. A. C. Hamlin of Bangor was in town Sunday. — Memorial services were held at the Universalist church. Rev. Mr. Hooper preached a very impressive sermon. The display and grouping of the floral emblematic tributes were highly creditable to the committee in charge.

(Deferred from last week.) The Democrat says: Hon. J. O. Smith, Secretary of State was in town last week. — Memorial services at the Universalist church next Sunday. — W. W. Kimball of the U. S. Navy was in town last week. — One hundred and thirty-six paid messages went through the telegraph office during the month of September. — Mr. A. C. Records a piano manufacturer of Lenox, Mass., was in town Friday. — Mr. Records was a native of Hebron or Buckfield, and lived with Rev. John Tripp at Hebron until he went to Massachusetts, thirty years ago. — The coroner, William Wing Johnson and Mrs. Boyd were taken to Thomaston Wednesday. They are to remain there one day each.

Bolster's Mills.

Rev. A. R. Sylvester, pastor of the M. E. Church at Bridgton, preached at this place last Sabbath, on exchange with Rev. Mr. Snow. Crooked River Lodge of F. & A. Masons will hold its next stated meeting next Thursday evening. Work in the first degree.

(Deferred from last week.) Mr. Plummer has closed his lumbering business at this place and removed to his home in Waterville.

Mrs. Martha Davis of "Spur's Corner," has bought the house in this village, recently owned and occupied by Mrs. Griffin, and will soon move into the same. Mr. Frank Stevens, recently from Cape Elizabeth, has moved into the house owned by George B. Dorman. Thomas Grace and wife from Mass. are visiting their relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Olando Brown of Otisfield sold his farm, stock, furniture, tools and furniture at auction last Monday. He intends to go "West."

Rev. Mr. Twort delivered an illustrated sermon at this place last Sunday evening. In place of the regular meeting of the Reform Club.

The school in the "Tannhorn District" in Otisfield commenced last Monday, with Miss Adie Scribner of Bolster's Mills as teacher.

Canton.

Our hotels and boarding houses are more than full and rent is high and scarce. On the whole Canton is booming.

For amusements we have good hunting and fishing, and fighting through in, and stiff legs made limber by brandy and gin.

Our lawyers are busy and get a full share of all the money the fools have to spare.

The farmers in our vicinity find a ready market for all their produce at city prices.

The Winslow Packing Company are about finishing up their sweet corn having received much more than last year. Our corn growers have expressed great satisfaction in receiving a much larger amount for their corn than they ever expected.

The average has been about sixty dollars per acre. They would have been satisfied with forty. This has not been a very favorable year for sweet corn as most of the planting was late in June and the plants were too wet to improve for other purposes. Our farmers were hard to believe that sweet corn raising would pay, but they now have become satisfied, and a very large acreage can be easily secured for another year. Canton cannot be beat for good corn land. We have thousands of acres of river land rich and well cultivated.

The company is now receiving apples preparatory to commencing canning. More than two thousand bushels have already been received, and as many more to come. The company is situated on the best apple belt in Maine, embracing Sumner, Jay, Hartford, Dixfield, Peru and Canton. There has been a large amount of fruit expended for help in the enterprise in Canton, has been so much working capital can be secured for another year. Early in the fall the company have secured a large amount of apples, and many a fine specimen of this fruit.

South Waterville.

Mrs. Pamela A. Hall, wife of Mr. Geo. A. Hall, died last Friday morning. The funeral was Monday afternoon under Grange ceremonies. Mrs. Hall was 31 years of age. She leaves two small children.

Mrs. Oliver Haggood lies in a very dangerous state.

Mrs. Josiah Monroe is very sick. The little daughter of Mrs. Whitcomb is improving.

Mr. Smart, spoken of last week, is no better, and will be sent to the Insane Asylum.

(Deferred from last week.) There appears to be improvement in the condition of some of our sick people. Mrs. Haggood is much improved. The daughter of Mrs. Whitcomb is considerably out of danger. Mrs. Amelia Hale, wife of Geo. A. Hale, but little hopes have been entertained by her friends.

Mon. Elbridge Gerry and wife of Portland, with the son Elbridge Gerry, of New York, are stopping at the Waterville House.

Capt. Henry Appleby and sister have gone to Portland, preparatory to embarking on a long journey.

Ned, little son of Eugene Nelson, cut his leg very badly with a scythe while cutting corn. The little fellow is doing well, but is having the wound sewed up.

After two years absence, our old friend and village smith, L. B. Sanborn, suddenly made his appearance in our midst. He still retains his old propensity of cutting hats and hunting.

Mr. Chas. Haggood and family of Deering, have moved into the village.

Mr. A. W. Smart of Sweden, while making a call on Rev. J. C. Snow of this village, was suddenly stricken with apoplexy, leaving him in a very bad and critical condition. He was conveyed to his home by some of the citizens.

Mr. Chas. A. Young sets out a good display of fall and winter goods. He is to sell, gents, not for show, particularly.

Are you ready, Mr. Editor? Are you already braced up? If you have any little men in your office, prepare them to look solemn, for the day is at hand when I, your old friend and neighbor, will be in the weight of his spring pig. (Send in the pig stories.) — Eds.

South Woodstock.

R. Edwards is erecting a new dwelling on the Cole lot.

E. E. Hammond has just finished his new house. It is painted inside and out and he moved his family in a few days since.

O. L. Fuller, our merchant and postmaster, is putting up one hundred rods of wire fence around his land near W. Andrews. That will make good feelings in the future as in the past.

Some very good marble and stone is being set in our cemetery this season, manufactured by Wise of So. Paris.

Very little apple crop in this section, but raising more than enough for their own use.

Andover.

Huskings and paring bees are all the "boom" just now. Thursday at Mr. P. A. Burgess's, after the corn was disposed of, and refreshments discussed, the young people spent a few hours "tipping the light fantastic toe." Also at Mr. F. A. Perkins Saturday eve. At the latter place as good people as the former, the guests were quite dispersed when the clock struck twelve.

Mr. D. S. Berry harvests 600 bushels of potatoes from 24 acres of ground this season.

Mr. James Moorhead, who had been in Government service at Washington for nearly 20 years, died at that city last week from an attack of malarial fever. The remains were brought home for interment, the funeral occurring at the house of Mrs. M. S. Dresser Friday.

Those who were admitted into full membership at the M. E. church Sunday.

Mrs. Mary Pierce of Portland, who has been dangerously ill at her brothers, Mr. Jebiel Campbell's, is convalescing.

Mrs. Amos Farrington and daughter remove to Easton, Mass., this week. They leave a large circle of friends here whose good wishes will follow them to their new home.

Mr. A. B. Penley of New York, is spending a few weeks with his friends here.

Mrs. C. H. Otignon has just returned from Boston with a new lot of millinery goods.

Mr. G. P. Thomas met with an unpleasant accident at the Lakes Saturday. While standing on a log chopping the axe caught on a limb sufficiently to turn the blow which came down on his right foot completely severing the great toe at the joint. The wound is doing well.

Milton Plantation.

Mr. Emory Sweet has his new house nearly done.

Mark L. Richardson, who has been doing a lumbering business at the plantation, has returned to Milton with his family. He has taken the carriage paint shop and will be painting for the new firm, and also job work.

The clothes pin factory is closed, having cut out 700 cords of birch and poplar timber since Jan. 1st.

Some three weeks since Mr. R. T. Allen was taken sick with typhoid fever, which terminated in his death on Saturday last at 6 p. m. The deceased was familiar to the people of Oxford Co. as a carriage manufacturer, as he has followed that business for many years. He was also owner of the steam mill, hotel and other property in the plantation, and has the past summer been preparing to erect a saw mill in the eastern part of the town. As a business man, kind neighbor, and town officer he will be greatly missed. At the time of his death he held the office of 1st Assessor and Collector. Deceased was 52 years of age, leaving a wife and three children, three of whom are at home.

West Paris.

S. B. Locke, esq., is lying dangerously sick at his home with typhoid fever, which has been seriously complicated with rheumatism. His recovery has continued for the last eight days in spite of all the efforts of his physicians. Dr. S. H. Weeks of Portland was here in consultation with his local physician last Monday or Tuesday. The doctor says he has controlled the rheumatism. At my present writing, Wednesday morning, there is but little change for the better. Dr. George W. Libbey of Seaboard, a brother-in-law of Mr. Locke, is continually by the bedside of the sufferer, and in conjunction with his local physician is doing all he can to palliate and relieve his distress and save the patient.

Henry Harmon, conductor on Grand Trunk R. R., and another gentleman from Gorham, N. H., are here with their hounds hunting foxes. They were rewarded for their first day's sport with one fox. The dogs are as good as the foxes, not allowing the hunter a shot.

Hannibal Curtis is about enlarging his carriage shop thirty or forty feet. We learn a brother-in-law of Mr. Curtis has sold his farm near this village to Mr. James Curtis of Woodstock. J. W.

Mr. G. Brown & Son have manufactured and sold the past season eight thousand back and bottom chairs, besides a large lot of cutlery.

John Bicknell has sold his stand to Samuel Caldwell, who will convert it into a hotel and connect a good livery stable to the house.

Enoch Whittemore has sold his stand now occupied by John Whitcomb to Nathanial Smith of North Paris, who comes here for the purpose of doing carriage painting. Nat is a carriage painter is hard to beat.

We learn that Calvin Bisbee is about moving to our place from Newry.

Oxford.

A very successful and interesting lecture has been established by the students of the Free High School.

Clothes line thieves made a raid in this village last Monday night. Several lines suffered badly.

George H. Jones has sold his colt to parties from Easton, Pa.

William Faunce is erecting a new set of buildings on the Cole location as those burned last summer.

Bryant's Pond.

Mr. D. A. Coffin, of Bethel, has rented and moved into the Glen Mountain House here. Mr. Hiram Perkins, former landlord has gone to Mechanic Falls, Me. Mr. C. is a perfect gentleman and knows his way around Bryant's Pond. He is a good business man.

Small crop of apples this year only about two tons raised.

The spool factory is doing a good business and are employing from forty to fifty hands.

Ezra Stowes is improving from his attack of fever and ague.

(Deferred from last week.)

Dea. I. Beckler's auction last Tuesday was well attended. Geo. Cole of Norway was auctioneer. Dea. Beckler had a large number of goods for sale. He has three sons there.

D. O. Godwin has "swapped" his stand lately bought of A. S. Kimball, esq., with Mrs. Stone, receiving $700 difference.

The Waterville House is about to be closed, and it is rumored that it will be put up for sale.

The Union Conference of Congregational churches will meet here Oct. 31 and Nov. 1.

Sweden.

Our friend Thomas Kendall writes from Gorham, N. H., that he is prospering in his carpenter business, and has a prospect for good paying work throughout the winter.

Mr. Daniel Bennett of Newry has brought his household goods to Sweden and will board with his brother John through the winter.

Mr. Francis Hamlin is now visiting his brother and sister in Sweden. Mr. Hamlin is the eldest son of Francis Hamlin, one of the early settlers in Sweden who died about thirty years ago. But long before his father died Francis, his son, was a carpenter, was buying and driving cattle from Oregon territory to California, a dangerous business in those days when the red men were plentiful than the wild beasts, and much more savage and treacherous. But by good fortune he escaped the perils of the wilderness and saved up money sufficient to purchase and run a large farm in California from which, we believe, he has realized to his satisfaction.

Melville Kimball is sick with slow fever, and is attended by our highly esteemed and excellent physician, Dr. C. L. Wilson of Waterville.

Miss Mary F. Plummer, daughter of Samuel Plummer of this town, is now at her father's in very poor health. She has lived in different places in the state of Mass. for several years past, returning to her old home only a short time ago. She is under the care of Dr. C. L. Wilson and improving.

Our much esteemed townsman, Albert W. Smart, we are sorry to say is now in a sad condition both in body and mind. Whichever his trouble is, may soon be removed by medical treatment or hereditary, it is now impossible to tell. But one thing is certain he is a very kind and true friend of the country are engaged in the examination of his case, and everything that can be done for his benefit will be done without delay. We hope for the best.

(Deferred from last week.) Joseph Adams is better and improving every day.

Mr. William Bennett is lover than he was two months ago, and little hope he is entertained of his recovery.

Mrs. Benjamin W. Myers has gone to Portland to be doctored and operated upon, if the surgeons think an operation will prolong her life.

Mrs. Hobbs from Mass. is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Bennett.

Mrs. Ellen M. Pike is tending a fall of calves in her cellar.

Albert Brown and family of Gorham, N. H., are visiting relatives in Sweden and Bridgton.

South Paris.

Miss Ellen Foster of Portland is visiting relatives at Robert Gray's.

L. S. Billings is reshingling his saw mill. A much needed improvement, Leander.

Mrs. H. C. Cushman has gone to Farmington to attend her mother who is ill with a fever.

W. C. Shaw and W. J. Wheeler traded horses this week. Both think they got the best end of the trade.

Thayer Bros. big sorrel horse trotted five miles in 19 minutes, 15 seconds last Tuesday on a wager and won. They bet that he could not do it in 20 min.

Last Wednesday evening a merry party of youths and maidens went to Hebron in Mr. J. M. Cumming's new barge, the "Bicycle." It is an elegant carriage of the kind and the party enjoyed themselves immensely both going and coming.

Last Wednesday a meeting of the creditors of C. M. Daicy was held. Nothing further than an adjournment was accomplished.

W. A. Frothingham is at the Lakes on county commission business this week.

Chas. Richardson, of the firm of S. Richardson & Sons, is confined to the house with a severe attack of sciatica.

An unusually large number is expected during the session of the Oxford County Musical Convention to be held at this place next week, and we trust that our citizens will not be backward in displaying their hospitality.

Mr. Chas. Brown and wife of Portland are in town this week.

The first crew of loggers passed through the place Monday. Their destination was Byron.

Locke's Mills.

F. E. Carpenter is loading a car with pumpkins for the Portland market.

Early Rose potatoes 50 cents per bushel.

William Childs and wife of Boston, are visiting at her father's, N. LeBaron.

J. G. Tibbets has a crew of painters from Lewiston to work on his dwelling house. His son, E. L. Tibbets, formerly connected with the M. C. R. R., and at present surveying the country for a new railroad in California, is about to move into it and reside here.

Huskings and paring bees are the order of the evenings.

George L. Patch is home on a short vacation.

We learn that D. A. Coffin has leased the hotel at Bryant's Pond. Mr. Coffin was at one time proprietor of the Mount Auburn house at this village, and we can recommend him to the traveling public as a genial landlord and good eater.

Walter B. Rand is attending school at Kent's Hill.

(Deferred from last week.) Thompson Howe, an old and respected citizen of this place died Oct. 3. The vacancy occurred by the removal of our Supervisor to Woodstock was filled by our special town meeting held 30th, by the choice of Eben E. Rand.

The first car load of potatoes was shipped Oct. 24. Potatoes are worth 50 and 55 cents per bushel for Rose.

"The Humorous and the Pathetic in the Writings of Dickens," and we are assured by those who have heard the lecture, that Mr. Applebee is one of the most interesting, humorous and pathetic lecturers we have. He belongs to the same Lecture Bureau which sent us Col. Conwell, is enthusiastically recommended by the press, and we have reason to believe that our citizens will be ready to add to the praise he has already won since his removal to this country from England about two years ago. Col. Russell H. Conwell will also lecture in the Course. Rev. G.
W. Perry of Auburn will lecture on "A Trip to the Moon," with stereop-for some one. See ad.

Allen has a wreath of boots over the door. These are only a sample of his large stock inside.

The uncertainty of the weather and the inauspicious outlook of the coming winter has forced Dr. Young to shingle his house.

Salt of salts at Holmes' at the Falls and flour for less money than at any other place in town. Speak to George about that coffee.

Boys, remember a few green pears are paid for at a costly price if bought at the expense of restless conscience and a tormenting memory.

U. H. Upton, who captured the lion's share of premiums on fruit at the recent fair, leaves a generous lot of specimen apples at our office. They are the best we have seen this year.

It is at Noyes' Drug Store, near the post-office, that you find everything in the line of fancy goods, stationery, toys, room paper, borders, etc. You should call in and see for yourself.

Our list of subscribers is constantly increasing. We are much gratified at the way people take to our paper and pay for it too. Our canvassing agents are meeting with good success everywhere.

The last rain was "just sich" as the deacon prayed for; "Not a drivin", tearin' rain, Lord, such as harvers up the face of the air, but a drizzlin', sozzlin' rain, such as lasts all day and pretty much all night."

The floral display at the Universalist church last Sabbath was very pretty and well befitted the occasion. The words in autumn leaves, "In Remembrance" suggested the subject of thought and the sermon was adapted to bring to our minds the departed ones.

Mr. John Woodman is shortly to start for Paw Paw, Michigan, where he will engage in the furniture business. Mr. W. has been there several times and knows the country. He has friends and relatives who live there.
He takes the ADVERTISER so as to keep posted on home news.

Our "Society Directory" has increased by one. The Reform Club and Ladies Aid Society tells where and when they meet and invites you to their meetings. This is commendable and looks well in the paper. We hope other societies will do likewise and we don't but they will when they have thoroughly looked into the matter.

The Maine Farmer's Almanac for '83 is on our table. This is the sixty-fifth number of this reliable publication. It is printed on good paper and in appearance far exceeds the usual run of almanacs. Four eclipses are to occur in the coming year, two of the sun and two of the moon. The partial eclipse of the moon the 16th of next October will be visible in this state. The others will be invisible in this section.
Published by Charles B. Nash, August-ta, Me. Price 10 cents per copy. We extend thanks to the publisher for the report of the annual meetings of the contributors of his almanac.

Over one hundred visitors from different parts of the county were present at the Oxford Co. Universalist Association, which convened in this village last Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 11th and 12th. The beautiful weather, the earnestness of the Association and the excellent services made the gathering a success. At the close the Norway friends were thanked for their hospitality. Meetings were held Wednesday morning and afternoon and evening, and Thursday morning and afternoon, the Association closing with the communion service. The following clergymen were present and took part in the services: A. Bosserman, Bethel; L. H. Taber, Bryant's Pond;
W. R. French, Turner; D. T. Stevens, Auburn; G. W. Perry, Auburn; H. S.
Whitman, Mechanic Falls; H. C. Munson, Canton; J. J. Mead, Hiram, and we are the State Missionary, and W. W.
Hooper. A large number of laymen present were ready to take part in conference meetings. The following officers were elected: Moderator, D.
Lara of Auburn; Standing Clerk, W.
W. Hooper; Preacher of Occasional Service, Rev. L. H. Taber; Essayist on State of Church and S. S., Rev. H.
C. Munson; Com. on Missionary Work, Revs. W. R. French and H. C. Munson, and Mr. Win. B. Merrill of Auburn. Rev. Mr. Whitman in his Report to the Association comparing the statistics of 1882 with those of 1872, stated that in ten years the societies in the limits of the Association had gained about 25 per cent. in number of preachers, families and church members, and had only lost in the number of Sunday School scholars. Altogether this gathering of the Oxford Co. Association seemed to be very pleasant and satisfactory.

Charles A. Hayden is on a visit to Lynn and Boston this week.

The Royal Arch Chapter of Free Masons will be moved here from Mc. Falls this month.

Mrs. Holmes and her daughter, Mrs.
H. L. Horne, who have been visiting friends in Bath and Portland, are expected home this week.

It is understood that a town meeting will shortly be called to see what action the town will take relative to the Shoe Factory. This is the outcome of the conference of last week.

We have at our office a hundred weight or more of waste paper. Should a junk buyer call we would sell them.
Some whole papers for sale as well as other valuable trash.

The Guy Family will be at Concert Hall to-morrow evening. They present a very attractive program. This is the old reliable troupe and is well and favorably known here and will have a full house.

The ADVERTISER will shortly be enlarged. We shall then have more space for reading matter and can accommodate our increasing advertising contingent. We will send the paper from now until next January, on trial, for 25 cents.

C. E. Holt, esq., has raised squashes but this year he buys them. We failed to learn that his vines wilted before the ravages of bugs in their early days, however he has squashes and has presented the printers on this paper with one a piece, for which we extend thanks.

The leaves hold on wonderfully, and as yet but little off color. As the frosts grow stiffer the brilliance of rare October hues will spread and deepen, until the great forests of mountain and valley will be aflame with a beauty higher than art. Get your old books out ready for leave-pressing.

A Western editor once apologized to his readers somewhat after this fashion: "We intended to have a death and a marriage to publish this week, but a violent storm prevented the wedding, and the doctor being taken sick himself, the patient recovered, and we are accordingly cheated out of both."

The rain of last week put Main Street in a terrible condition. The mud was from four to six inches deep.
Many of the stone crossings have settled and are lower than the road bed and it was with difficulty that you could cross the streets without going over your shoes in mud.

We noticed an Emma Parlor Cook Stove being put into a house on Main street the other night. Those folks have got a good stove. You can bake in it and cook over it, boil a kettle or pop corn with it and it will keep a fire all night. We know this for we have one of those stoves at our house.

Hon. John P. Swasey will give a lecture at the Hall of the Universalist church next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock on Temperance. Should the day be stormy some one else will talk on the same subject, but Mr. Swasey will be present except in case of a storm.

A local newspaper man is generally expected to be everywhere, see everything and catch every item afloate, simply because it is his profession. But he can't do it. His friends can help him through by sending or bringing such items as are of interest. All manner of legitimate local news goes to make up an interesting paper.—Newmarket (N. H.) Advertiser

Are we to have a course of lectures this fall and winter? Don't all answer the question at once. Just think it over. Would it not be a good idea?
Let us hear from the people on this subject. South Paris and Norway might have a brilliant course of lectures if they only saw fit to attempt it.
Let the matter be agitated. Our columns are open. What say you, brethren, about it?

One of our tradesmen was a little absent minded the other morning. He took a lantern and milk pail and went to the barn to milk. He sat the lantern and pail down together while he attended to other matters before milking. In the mean time his clerk removed the milk pail to another part of the barn, leaving the lantern in the place where it was left. When the merchant got ready to do his milking he took up his lantern, thinking no doubt it was his pail, got his milking stool, took a seat beside the cow and commenced milking, but the lantern wouldn't hold milk worth a cent, and laughter from the clerk just at that moment, convinced him that something was wrong, when he discovered his mistake.

The Ossipee Valley News pathetically describes an important event that has lately transpired in Limerick, as follows: "It is whispered about that an event has just transpired in our beautiful village, which, if strictly true in all its particulars, will cause a deep sensation among old and young Limerickites on every side in every walk of life. We have hesitated in making the matter public until the exact truth could be ascertained, as we mortally hate to make a promise to the ear and then break it to the hope. If, however, upon careful investigation it shall prove that we have been wantonly deceived in this matter by some designing person, we shall regret to the last day of our lives that we were betrayed into giving publicity to an affair which may —yes, must—seriously affect the standing of some of our best citizens. With a pen sweating great drops of Carter's best we write: School (late Black) street has got a new plant sidewalk."

From the Hub.
All sensible correspondents take a short vacation now and then; and we have just returned to hear low and heavy mutterings at the seeming neglect of the ADVERTISER to keep its readers posted up on the important events constantly transpiring in the vicinity of the Hall Pasture.

First in order for this week is an entertainment given by the young people last Friday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Randall's. 1st singing by Miss Nellie Stuart. Next in order was a dialogue in which Harry Stuart acted well the part of a clown, and Harry Smith and Ernest Tracy excelled as negroes. Iva McAdie, aged four years, recited a poem suited to her advanced (?) age. After a song by Nellie Andrews, the clown introduced Julius Caesar, a colored man, who he informed us was the inventor of the telegraph wire. "C. C." recited "Mary had a little lamb," in many of the revised versions. The next was a tabu-leaux entitled, "Stealing a Kiss." We feel a little delicate about giving the names of the parties, as the gentleman obtained the kiss, and at the request of the audience, even repeated the performance.

Mr. and Mrs. Grace of Chelsea,
Mass., who have been visiting Mr.
Henry Kilgore of late, are now visiting friends in Harrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry of Jamaica, Vt., have been visiting Mr. P.'s mother, who has a comfortable home—with her son, Mr. G. Barrows of this village.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Burnell are visiting friends in Massachusetts.

Mrs. French, with her friend, Mrs.
Fitzgerald, returned to their home in Winchester, Mass., Wednesday of this week.

The November number of Ballou's magazine contains an illustrated article on "Spain as Found," by Captain Charles Steadman, who has resided in the country, and knows what he is writing about. It is well written, and worth reading, the engravings being especially noteworthy.

"Spain as Found." "The Humanitarian Language;" "The Long Vacan-tion;" "Singular Phenomena;" "The Poet's Corner;" "The City of it;" "A Bachelor's Midnight Masque;" "Would he be killed?" "Privaters of the War of 1812;" "My Grief;" "Jaunt's Mistake;" "Childhood;" "Mando Thumton;" "The Tyrant of the School;"
"Was it but a Dream?" "The Little God of Love;" "Plate-Glass Manufacture;" "The Gleaners at a Thornhill;" "The Birth of Love, etc."

Now is the time to get up clubs and subscribe, so that our readers will not fail to get the first installment of the great story, "The Belle of Australia," by William H. Thomas, to commence in the January number.

We have just received from the Publishers a copy of The Album Writer's Friend, containing nearly three hundred selections suitable for writing in Autograph Albums. Those of our readers who have been invited to inscribe their sentiments in a friend's Album, will find this little volume a valuable help. It contains 64 pages, and will be sent by mail post paid on receipt of 15 cents, by J. S. Ogilvie & Co., Publishers, No. 31 Rose Street, New York.
